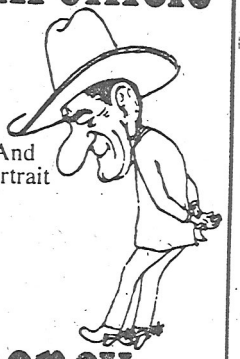
LBJ:

An Irreverent Chronicle

LBJ was many men. He could give out a gloriously uninhibited cowboy yell in the Taj Mahal. Or say something in front of thousands, have it recorded, and then deny ever saying it. As a Johnson right-hand, Booth Mooney knew all the LBJs. And now he presents his explosive insider's portrait of the Messrs. Johnson.



"Booth Mooney's biography is the best to date."—HOLMES ALEXANDER

T. Y. Crowell
666 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10019

$9.95

By Booth Mooney

Former Assistant and Speechwriter to Lyndon Baines Johnson